CASE STUDY

Almost all the assignments in the class suspiciously have the same structure, stock phrases, and conclusions.

CASE STUDY

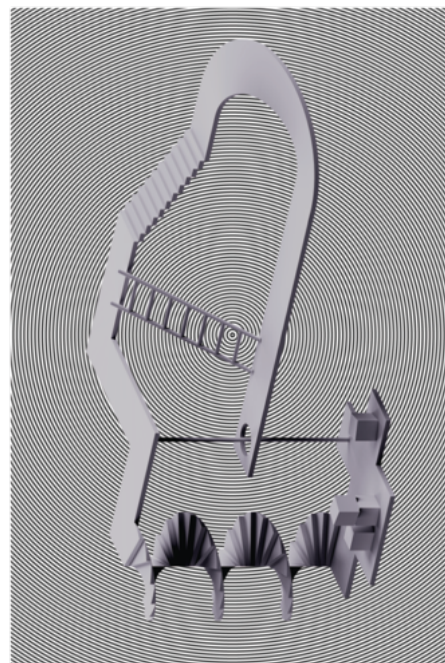

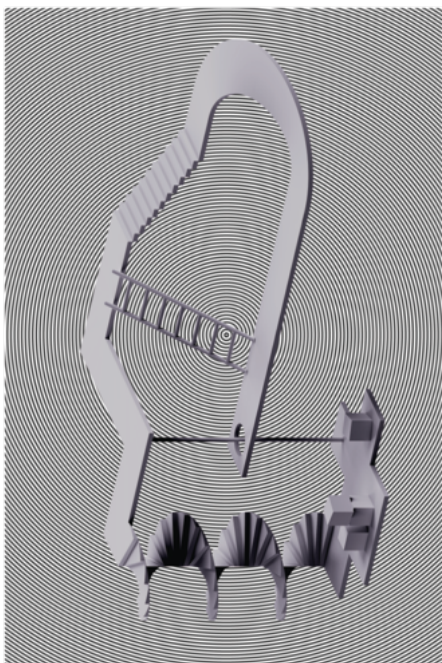

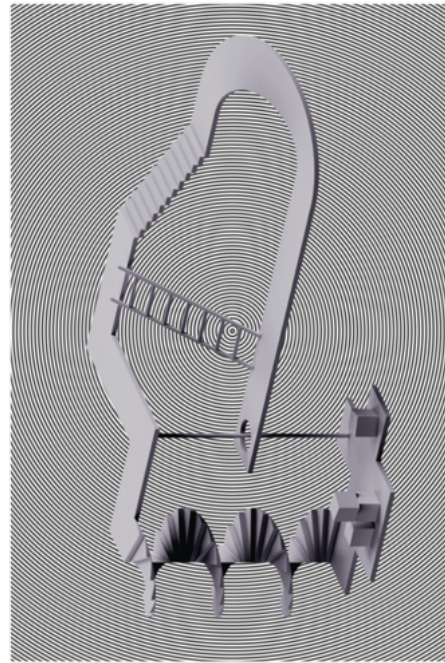

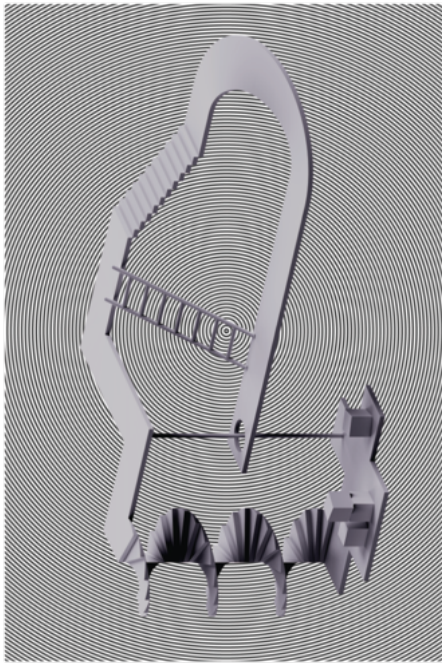

A student produces an assignment using AI in a very obvious way.

CASE STUDY

A fellow teacher tells you he no longer makes slides for his classes and instead generates them all with an AI tool.

CASE STUDY

When I run the student's assignment through an AI detector, it comes back as 100% AI-generated.

CASE STUDY

Your colleague does all of the grading using AI.

CASE STUDY

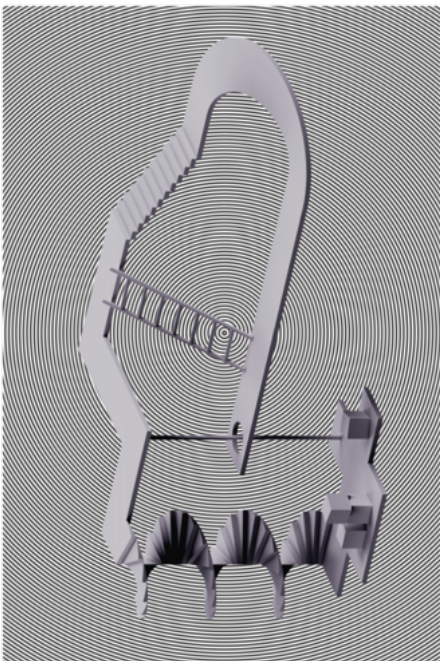

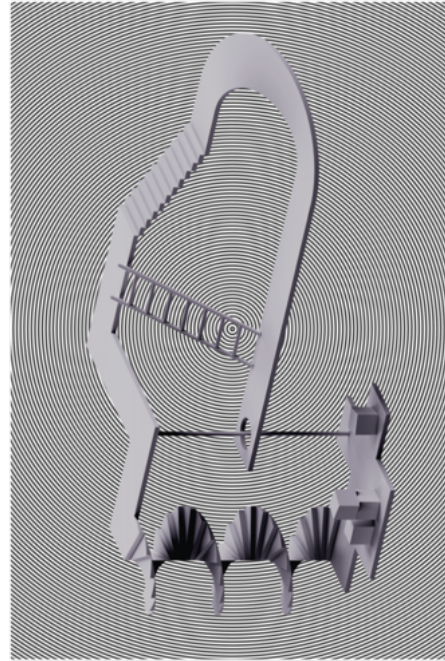

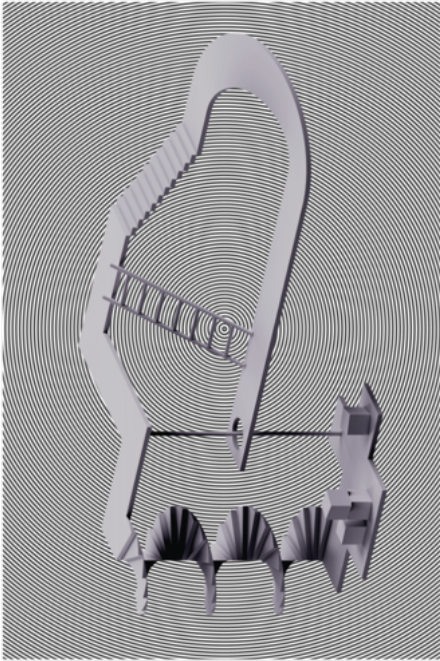

My coworkers generate exams using AI.

CASE STUDY

A student includes AI-generated images in a presentation, even though the presentation itself is original work.

CASE STUDY

You overhear two students talking about a new AI software that does homework for you.

CASE STUDY

You announce that you're going to hold an oral final exam, and 20% of the students in the class drop out.

CASE STUDY

The average grade on assignments is 9.5 (out of 10), but everyone fails the exam.

CASE STUDY

You openly discuss AI use and critical/ethical issues, and when you mention Grok, people start generating images of Black Nazis.
